CITY WORKER FOUND GUILTY OF THEFT

A woman who was accused of stealing nearly $103,000 from Denver Animal Care and Control has been found guilty today.

Lucrecia Sena (DOB: 12-04-1975) was found guilty by a Denver jury of theft over $15,000 (F3). The presumptive range Sena faces at sentencing is 4-12 years in the Colorado Department of Corrections.

Sena was an administrative assistant who processed requests for pet licenses. She stole pet license fees that were paid in cash and withheld checks that she would later exchange for cash so that the amounts would appear to balance.
