GUILTY PLEA IN BAR SHOOTING

A Denver lounge manager has pleaded guilty today in connection with a shooting at the Funky Buddha Lounge last January that wounded a burglar.

Christakes Christou (DOB: 12-01-45) has pleaded guilty to one count of tampering with evidence (F6) and has been sentenced to a deferred judgment that includes 2 years of supervised probation and 50 hours of community service.

Evidence at the crime scene had been disturbed and the scene was altered during a nearly hour-long delay in calling police after the shooting.
