JURY CONVICTS NOVOTNY

A Denver jury returned a guilty verdict in the murder trial of Martin Novotny (01-21-83) today. After deliberating less than a full day, the jury found Novotny guilty of first-degree murder after deliberation, first-degree felony murder and first-degree burglary in the death of 24-year-old Ana Elisa Toledo in December 2005.

Novotny went to immediate sentencing and was given a mandatory term of life in prison without parole.

The case was prosecuted by Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey and Chief Deputy DA Verna Carpenter.
