LIMO DRIVER PLEADS GUILTY

A limousine driver accused of careless driving in a prom-night accident that severely injured a high school student has pleaded guilty in the case.

Stanley Sample (dob: 05-02-68) pleaded guilty to the original charge of careless driving resulting in serious bodily injury, a class 1 traffic misdemeanor.

Prosecutors with the Denver District Attorney's Office moved forward on a guilty plea agreement following the wishes of the victim and her family. As a result of Sample's guilty plea, he will be ordered to serve 150 hours of useful public service while on court-supervised probation.

Sample was driving a limousine on May 13, 2006 for students from Denver East High School who were attending prom. Several students were still trying to get into the vehicle when Sample drove away, dragging the victim, Molly Bloom, nearly 40 feet.
