FREE SENIOR RESOURCE DAYS!

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey, Denver City Councilwoman Jeanne Robb and Councilwoman Marcia Johnson are hosting two separate events designed to help Denver seniors connect with helpful resources and protect themselves from fraud.

These free events are specially designed for seniors to address the special needs and concerns they have related to health, safety, benefits and crime prevention. What are the latest scams to look out for? Where can seniors turn to get health questions answered? What services are available when ready to downsize? What do political leaders think about the issues affecting seniors?

These special events are devoted entirely to seniors, providing an opportunity for seniors AND their caregivers to discuss their questions, concerns and ideas with political leaders and other resource specialists. Resources include health and wellness organizations, emergency management, safety, Veterans, home repair, financial matters, among others.

- Council District 10 Senior Resource Day will be held on Wednesday, May 23, 2007, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Denver Botanical Gardens, 909 York Street. Hosted by District Attorney Mitch Morrissey and Councilwoman Jeanne Robb. Deadline for registration is May 13.
- Council District 5 Senior Resource Day will be held on Monday, June 11, 2007, from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Temple Emanuel, 51 Grape Street. Hosted by District Attorney Mitch Morrissey and Councilwoman Marcia Johnson. Deadline for registration is June 1.

A complimentary lunch will be provided. Advance registration required for both seniors and caregivers – Register by calling Simon at 720-913-9264.

RTD Senior Ride will provide transportation to and from the events. For reservations and information please call: 303-299-6503
