MAN CHARGED IN SHOOTING INCIDENT

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey has formally charged a man in connection with a shooting that occurred on June 22, 2008 in the 1800 block of Market Street just before 2 a.m.

Andres Castillo (dob: 07-23-81) is charged with two counts of attempted first-degree murder (F2), two counts of first-degree assault (F3) and five counts of second-degree assault.

The charges allege that on June 22, 2008 at about 1:45 a.m., Castillo was firing a shotgun near 18th and Market Streets in Denver. The charges further allege that when Castillo was confronted by two Denver police officers he turned and fired at the officers.

Castillo remains in police custody at Denver Health Medical Center. He is scheduled to appear in Denver County Court, room 12T, on July 3, 2008 at 9 a.m. to be advised of the charges
