WOMAN CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING MAN

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey has formally charged a woman accused of assaulting and seriously injuring a 72-year-old man.

Jennifer Stroth (DOB: 06-16-1987) is charged with first-degree assault against an at-risk victim (F2), two counts of second-degree assault against an at-risk victim (F3), and menacing (F5).

The charges allege that Stroth attacked the victim on two separate occasions in the home they shared near the 4900 block of Raleigh Street in Denver, on February 1, and again on February 16, 2008. The charges also allege that Stroth repeatedly stabbed the man causing him serious bodily injury.

Stroth was arrested on February 17, 2008, in Loveland, Colorado and is currently being held in custody in the Larimer County Jail. Her next Denver court date has not yet been determined.
