GRAFFITI VANDAL CONVICTED ON ALL COUNTS

A graffiti vandal who once boasted he would never be caught was found guilty of criminal mischief, defacing property and trespassing yesterday by a Denver jury. The conviction is the result of ongoing work between the Denver Police Department's Graffiti Unit and the Denver DA's Office.

Timothy Barajas (dob: 07-13-82) was convicted of three counts of criminal mischief, three counts of defacing public property and one count of trespassing. He could face up to 36 months in the Denver County Jail when he appears for sentencing on December 29, 2009.

Barajas was the leader of a Denver-area graffiti tagging crew, many of whom have also been identified and arrested this year.
