MAN CONVICTED IN BOOKSTORE ASSAULT

A Denver jury has convicted a man accused of fondling a young girl in a Denver bookstore in January 2008.

Ian Troutman (dob: 04-05-81) was found guilty of charged with sexual assault on a child (F4), enticement of a child (F3) and false imprisonment.

On January 20, 2008, Troutman grabbed a 7-year-old girl in a downtown bookstore and assaulted her in a secluded area of the store. Denver police identified Troutman as a suspect and arrested him in front of the store as he was leaving.

He is scheduled to be sentenced on July 27, 2009 at 8:30 a.m. in Denver District Courtroom 23.
