FATHER SENTENCED IN SHAKEN BABY DEATH

A man accused of shaking his 2-month-old son and causing fatal injuries in 2009 has been sentenced today.

Stephen Dailey (dob: 04-21-89) pleaded guilty last October to one count of child abuse resulting in death (F2) and was sentenced today to 34 years in prison.

Denver Deputy District Attorney Dominique Waples-Trefil had argued for the maximum sentence of 38 years, citing the facts of the case.

On September 15, 2009, emergency services responded to the 200 block of Lincoln Street on a report of a 2-month old baby not breathing. The baby died a month later at a local hospital on October 17, 2009 from injuries sustained in the shaking incident.
