NO CHARGES IN MCBEAN CASE

The investigation into allegations of stalking by Ryan McBean has been completed and the Denver District Attorney's Office is declining to file any charges against McBean.

A warrant had been issued for McBean on October 14, 2011 following an allegation of stalking made by a former girlfriend. Through additional investigation conducted by the Denver District Attorney's Office, new information was obtained that did not support the allegation. The formal decision to decline the filing of any criminal charges was made yesterday.
