DAD SENTENCED IN BABY'S DEATH

A man who pleaded guilty earlier this year in connection with the shaking death of his infant son has been sentenced to prison today.

Andrew Szeremy (dob: 09-22-77) pleaded guilty in May to child abuse resulting in death (F2).

Szeremy faced 34 to 40 years in prison, and following an emotional sentencing hearing this afternoon, Denver District Court Judge Kenneth Laff sentenced him to 35 years.

On May 14, 2010, Denver Health paramedics and Denver police officers responded to 3961 Rutgers Place on a report of a child not breathing. The child, 7-month-old Noah Szeremy, was taken to Swedish Medical Center where he died two days later. The baby had been dropped off with Szeremy for visitation time just before the fatal shaking injuries.
