MAN CHARGED AFTER DRIVING INTO CONVENTION CENTER

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey has formally charged a man accused of crashing into the Colorado Convention Center Monday evening.

Randolph John Blazon (dob: 06-29-1990) has been served a criminal summons and complaint charging him with two counts of driving under the influence (M) and two counts of careless driving resulting in injury (T1).

The charges allege that Blazon was drinking and driving when he crashed through the front doors of the Colorado Convention Center at 700 14th Street. Alcohol appears to have been a factor.

Blazon is scheduled to appear in Denver County Court on Wednesday, July 6, 2016 at 10:00 a.m.
