MAN'S 11th DUI CASE BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

A man charged with his 11th DUI remains in jail and his case has been bound over into Denver District Court today.

Ramon Medrano-Corral (dob: 03-21-61) is charged with four counts of vehicular assault (F4, F5), two counts of second-degree assault (F4), and two counts of DUI (fourth or subsequent offense) (F4).

The charges allege that on Christmas night, December 25, 2015, Medrano-Corral was driving drunk near 48th Avenue and Inca Street when he crashed head on into another car, seriously injuring two people. The charges further allege that Medrano-Corral has 10 prior DUIs dating back more than two decades.

Medrano-Corral remains in custody; his bond is set at $50,000. He is scheduled to appear in Denver District Courtroom 5H for arraignment on February 29, 2016, at 1:30 p.m.
