MAN CHARGED IN DOMESTIC VIOLENCE SHOOTING

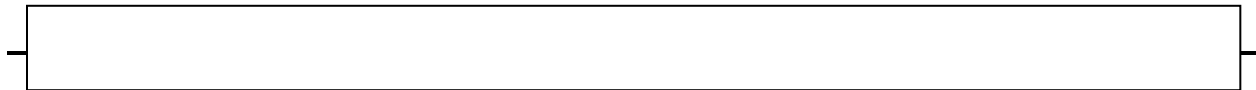

Denver District Attorney Mitch Morrissey has formally charged a man accused of shooting his wife during an argument last weekend near Lowry Boulevard and Quebec Street.

Eric D. Smith (dob: 08-15-77) has been charged with attempted second-degree murder (F3), first-degree assault (F3), and second-degree assault (F4).

Smith and the victim were arguing in their car over whether or not he should be driving, as he had allegedly been drinking. The charges allege that Smith shot the victim several times causing serious bodily injury.

Smith is currently in custody; his bond is set at $50,000. He will appear in Denver County Courtroom 2100 for his second advisement on July 21, 2016, at 8:30 a.m.
